With much appreciation, we acknowledge our first-quarter donors and look forward to forging more partnerships during the year. Enjoy the read!

COHORT 7 FINAL CAMP!

From March 11th to 15th, the Akrofi-Christaller Institute was buzzing with energy as our Gold Cohort 7 Fellows gathered for 5 days of impact and transformation. This wasn't just a training camp; it was a deep dive into the roots of Ghanaian identity and the future of Christ-centered leadership.

Camp commenced with an encounter at ICGC Christ Temple, where Pastor Mensa Otabil challenged Fellows to learn how to think, providing a visionary spark.

Our exceptional Faculty passionately equipped Fellows with essential Christ-centered leadership skills. Inspiration peaked as Prince Takyi of Cohort 4 shared his "full circle" journey, illustrating CLP's lasting impact on his identity.

COHORT 8: THE WAIT IS (ALMOST) OVER!

The search for our next generation of leaders is officially heating up! Interviews for CLP Gold Cohort 8 have concluded, and we are absolutely energized by the talent and passion we encountered.

To all our applicants: the wait is almost over, so please stay tuned for the outcome.

FELLOWS MAKING IMPACT!

Team Elev8 – Spring Up

The core of this mission is transforming juvenile inmates, achieved by empowering the officers who mentor them daily. Team Elev8 of Cohort 7 ensures that impact outlasts their involvement by "training the trainers." By equipping prison guards with MS Office and AI tools, they turn these officers into the primary educators for the youth.

In partnership with Infinite Potential Africa and Mrs. Erinn Ofori (CLP Faculty member), they foster identity through reading clubs and inspirational materials for the juvenile inmates.

This Christ-centered strategy ensures juvenile inmates receive sustainable, high-quality guidance and digital literacy, delivered directly through their guardians.

Team Anidado

The Bridge Project, conducted by Team Anidado of Cohort 7, aims to equip youth transitioning from institutional care with the skills needed for independent living. Since its launch in December, the team has completed Phase 1 at the Motherly Love Foundation Orphanage, where they provided training in areas such as mindset development, purpose identification, goal setting, time management, public speaking, and financial literacy.

Phase 2 is currently underway, focusing on vocational and digital skills, including cosmetology, baking, graphic design, etc.

They remain dedicated to creating lasting pathways for these young individuals to thrive after leaving institutional care.

BEACONS OF EXCELLENCE: LEADING CHANGE IN THE REAL WORLD

A Creative Heart for Service: Our Social Media Beacon

Founder of Richies Muse and a Cohort 3 standout, Richard Sewornu serves as a CLP Social Media Volunteer with artistic excellence. By blending creativity with consistency, he ensures the program maintains a commanding online presence.

Transformed by CLP, Richard balances his business while giving back deeply. He skillfully mentored children at Motherly Love Orphanage, teaching graphic design through Team Anidado's (cohort 7) "The Bridge Project" to empower a new generation with the tools for future success

Developing Leaders Across Generations

Adel Sesa Acquah, BOE of CLP Cohort 3, is translating CLP's investment in transformational leadership into large-scale impact. As Program Manager at LeadAfrique International, she has helped to empower 150+ women in politics and 120 youth leaders, guiding teens through self-discovery.

Currently pursuing PMP certification and an MA in International Affairs, Adel embodies CLP's commitment to development. Scaling nationally, she leads LeadAfrique International's Black Star Summit, convening youth to co-create a vision for Ghana's future.
